Project Overview

This project is a E-Commerce website that allow restaurant to accept and manage orders placed online.This project generally has two components – a website or app that allows customers to view the menu and place an orders, also the customers allow to customize their profile, and an admin interface that enables the restaurant to receive and fulfil customer orders.The web site will be developed with HTML, CSS, JavaScript and PHP language and will be linked to a database as thebackend. There will be a number of different functionalities implemented in the website such as login, logout, user page and admin page.

Introduction

Our e-commerce website is one that allows people to buy Filipino foods over the internet rather than at a brick-and-mortar location. Through an e-commerce website, a business can process orders, accept payments, manage shipping and logistics, and provide customer service.

This document is the project proposal that will further elaborate what the project is all about. This includes the justification and description of the proposed solution, the aims and objectives of the project and most importantly, the project's scope and limitations.

Project Justification

With the improvement of technology, e-commerce websites are becoming a popular topic. That's because they are serving the ever increasing demand for convince. The main purpose of an our project is to provide customers for a way to place an order at a restaurant over the internet. The main reason is that it benefits both the customer and the business. With a website, customers can easily browse all the dishes the restaurant has available and place an order. From the restaurants perspective, they no longer spend time taking the customers order, stop worrying about communication errors and streamline their order management workflow.

Description of the Purposed Solution

The website will be created using PHP with the combination of HTML and will be connected or linked to a database where the information will be stored. CSS or cascading style sheet will also be used in styling the site and some Java script to make the site responsive. There will be a login page where email and password will be asked. Only the customers of the shop and the admin can access the website. Costumers and admins will have different home pages as admins are able to update or manipulate some information on the site.

The layout that will be followed once a user logged in in the website will be of the structure as header section followed by a menu-type page that will also include the body and then footer. The color scheme will be consistent on all web pages on the website.

Project Aim

This project is a E-Commerce website that allow restaurant to accept and manage orders placed online.This project generally has two components – a website or app that allows customers to view the menu and place an orders, also the customers allow to customize their profile, and an admin interface that enables the restaurant to receive and fulfil customer orders
